

October 13, 2017

Welcome to Alamance County Public Libraries!

ACPL is very happy to have bridged a partnership between the public library and The Hawbridge School. Every student, faculty member and staff will have full access to Alamance County Public Libraries' collections and digital media including e-books, databases and online resources from anywhere using their student account.

What is the ACPL Connect Account?

An ACPL Connect account is a special library account that utilizes a student's ID number with a PIN (Personal Identification Number). There is not a physical card associated with these accounts. Each account is created using data provided by the school. Accounts are automatically created for new students.

Students of all ages benefit from the stronger relationship between school and public libraries. Through this partnership students become more aware of what activities, books, and other resources are available to them at the public library and get more comfortable using these resources. Don't worry if you can't get the materials back on time either! We do not charge you when you check out books with your ACPL Connect account or if they are late. As soon as you return your books, you can check out more.

These collaborations benefit not just the schools and libraries but the whole community. School librarians gain resources and partners who help them meet their curricular goals. Public Librarians get to connect not just with the school librarians but also the teachers, students and parents at the schools. The students see the continuation of services between the school and public library. They become more comfortable coming into the public library and become acquainted with the books, events, and materials available to them there.

We are so happy to have The Hawbridge School as our newest partner. Please come by the library to see what we have to offer you and your family or check us out online at:

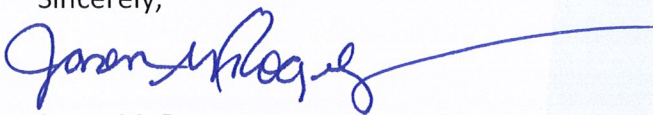

www.alamancelibraries.org

<https://www.facebook.com/AlamanceLibraries/>

<https://twitter.com/ACLibraries>

<http://instagram.com/alamancelibraries>

Sincerely,

Jason M. Rogers

Associate Director of Community Relations

